

Burndown Chart from the previous sprint (Sprint 3)

Burndown Chart of Sprint 4

The sprint 4 started with 6 tasks worth a total of 62 story points. The administration system and the payment system were the key focuses of this sprint. At a total of 4 days, the length of this sprint was apparently affected by the Assignment 2. All of our team members worked very hard to meet the deadline on Saturday for everything to be tested together, resulting in the deep dive towards the end of the sprint.

The velocity is lower in sprint 4 (62 points versus 106 points in sprint 3) because the length of this sprint is significantly lower than the previous sprints. We could have done more if we had more time, yet those 6 tasks on the backlog worth 62 points are all we need to finish up our project and make our service fully functional.
